The University of Lagos Business School (ULBS) was set up in 2013 and became operational in 2019, to advance the culture of excellence in Business education by the University of Lagos.

Welcome to UNIVERSITY OF LAGOS BUSINESS SCHOOL

For a Life Transforming Experience

The University of Lagos is an academic citadel of choice with sterling brand identity. Its unique brand identity derives from the quality of teaching, high rate of employment of its graduates, strong alumni, quality of its academic research and location in Lagos, the commercial and industrial hub of Nigeria.

Welcome Address

~ Professor Folasade Ogunsola, FAS, OON
Vice Chancellor, University of Lagos

On behalf of the University of Lagos Business School and the entire university community, I welcome you to a leader in Management and Leadership education. Welcome to the University of Lagos Business School. We are delighted to have every one of you in our institution.

The University of Lagos is well known as an academic citadel of choice with sterling brand identity. The University good name derives from the quality of teaching and research, high rate of employment of its graduates, strong alumni and contribution to the well-being of the broader society.

The University of Lagos is the first to set up a faculty of Business Administration in Nigeria and has been producing excellent managers of private and public organisations over the years. The University of Lagos Business School was set up in 2013 and became operational in 2019, to advance the culture of excellence in Business education, Management, Leadership, Sciences and other related fields by the University of Lagos.

The University of Lagos Business School has been set up as an autonomous unit of the University of Lagos to advance the culture of excellence in Business education and related fields through innovative business research and training in an environment that is conducive for learning. The University of Lagos Business School will go beyond the normal criteria of research universities by promoting research that transcends the realm of academic publications to reach and add value to the Nigerian and global business communities as well as the broader society. Its approach will be inductive, holistic and transformational.

The University of Lagos Business School shall be a focal point, to which questions, pertaining to issues in business, management and other vital fields, can be referred with full confidence and assurance that the best solutions would be obtained.

The faculty of University of Lagos Business School is drawn from local and foreign experience academics and industry practitioners to provide local and global perspectives on business issues and trends. I invite all those who seek superior knowledge and skills for transformation of the business to enrol in the University of Lagos Business School.

Once again, I welcome you as we look forward to a business school that will indeed raise business leaders for global impact. Thank you for coming.

Welcome Address

~ Professor Mike Adebamowo

Executive Director,
University of Lagos Business School

I am happy to welcome you to the University of Lagos Business School (ULBS). At the ULBS, we enhance the skills and employability of our students and provide innovative business research and training leading to capacity to develop unequalled business strategy modelled for technology-driven business and development of the entrepreneurial skills needed at the very top. ULBS is an excellent choice to attain your business education and prepare for a successful career. Our Business School is in a most serene location near the Lagos lagoon in Lagos State, the economic nerve centre of Nigeria.

Our School provides exciting educational opportunities for students from all backgrounds and locations. We offer many different major courses of study (degrees, diplomas and certificates) that prepare students for success in the real world by engaging our students in instructional modes that promote creative thinking, problem-solving, writing and public speaking skills. The faculty are dedicated professionals who excel in connecting with students and providing excellent educational experience. At ULBS, students not only get the current materials during classroom interactions but also have many opportunities for real world application while still a student.

University of Lagos Business School is an academic institution of choice with a matchless brand identity that distinguishes us from others. The unique brand identity of the School is a composition of several factors, such as:

- its location in the African centre for commerce;
- completely student-centred learning approach;
- a fully global curriculum, including study abroad options;
- the quality of its teaching and academic research; and
- commitment of our facilitators to impacting skills that breed first-class entrepreneurs, C-suite executives and purposeful leaders.

The school is developing rapidly in our mission to be highly regarded for both excellence in teaching and high-quality research that will earn us the position of a top-class Business School globally recognized for knowledge, currency and relevance-nationally and internationally.

By studying at ULBS, you would have a first-class student experience. The school stands ready to help the new generation of business leaders to solidify their long-term success in business and leadership position. In addition, the ULBS will offer a unique learning laboratory where innovation and technology help today's new generation of business leaders to acquire the best theoretical and practical experiences, with their work on real-life problems in a learning format, combining case studies and simulations.

At ULBS, students have the opportunity to create their own customized education. Education in and out of the classroom is readily available and highly encouraged. Our faculty are very friendly, pleasant, warmly, welcoming and supportive. Due to our small class sizes, students will have the opportunity to know the faculty and work with them side by side on seminars, presentations, business and research projects.

Our school is open to students of all races, colours, creeds, ethnicities, genders, cultural backgrounds and social status. You will therefore have an opportunity to meet people from all over the world and make life-long friends. ULBS students are bound to have an unforgettable and life transforming experience. The huge recreational activities and tourist attractions available in both the university and the state enable you to develop a healthy balance between your academic and leisure life.

If you are interested in preparing for a career in business or management and wish for an outstanding education in an excellent environment, you have found it. I welcome you to a school where business leaders are fashioned, incubated, modelled and made.

Why Choose UNIVERSITY OF LAGOS BUSINESS SCHOOL?

EXECUTIVE MASTER OF RISK MANAGEMENT (EMRM) PROGRAMME

Lack of human capacity required in risk management is one of the major challenges of the Nigerian and global business environment. This has led to the collapse of several corporate organizations, manufacturing industries and government institutions owing to ineffective risk identification, valuation and control measures.

The Executive Master of Risk Management (EMRM) programme provides the platform to acquire in-depth knowledge and technical skills needed to manage enterprise risks of corporate organizations and government institutions. The programme also provides opportunities for capacity building (of graduates from various fields) in risk identification, modelling, financing and management as it applies to all sectors of the economy.

The University of Lagos is the leading risk management training institution in Nigeria as indicated by the leadership position its graduates occupy in the industry today. To consolidate this lead and to create avenues for professionals and practitioners from different backgrounds to acquire the needed technical knowledge and skills in enterprise risk management, the executive MRM programme is highly desirable.

EXECUTIVE MASTER OF PUBLIC HEALTH (EMPH) PROGRAMME

The Executive Master of Public Health (EMPH) programme prepares candidates with the prerequisite familiarity to health delivery systems for leadership in public health, health-care delivery and management through in-depth exposure to advances in health sciences and to quantitative social and managerial skills. It is a professional Masters programme with the opportunity to undertake preceptorship postings to local government councils and industrial health clinics.

The programme will adequately and appropriately train qualified Epidemiologists, Health Managers and Health Information Management experts for the current global challenges. Graduates of this programme will have their analytical skills sharpened to enable them critically assess environmental factors as well as public health interventions and their potential relative impact on health.

THE EXECUTIVE MASTER OF NON-INTEREST FINANCE (MNIF) PROGRAMME

The MNIF is designed for professionals from both conventional and Shariah finance background; it is an inclusive and multidisciplinary programme which involves imparting knowledge and instilling values, as catalyst as positive change. Successful completion of the MNIF will ensure that participants gain working knowledge of Data Analytics, Business Strategy and Policy and Social Finance, while acquiring the ability to analyse and develop solution to modern business challenges. They would also be able to analyse organisational situations and market fluctuations, and assess international socioeconomic conditions. Participants will be equipped with skills, knowledge and best practices on how non-interest (Islamic) financial instruments can be combined with technological advancements to boost development and alleviate hardship, in accordance with the UN Sustainable Development Goals.

THE DOCTOR OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION (DBA) PROGRAMME

The ULBS DBA programme is guided by the belief that a doctorate degree goes beyond the acquisition of knowledge and research skills, to linking doctoral education with work-related challenges, questions, and needs of the wider society. It is designed to link research-based knowledge to professional capacity development in order to enhance practice, national economic growth, and the well-being of society.

The programme is aimed at developing individuals' knowledge and research skills to advance professional practice. The specific objectives of the programme include:

- Providing an environment that promotes collaborative learning of professionals with the support of experienced academics and professional scholars.
- Equipping participants with the capacity for developing and applying theories in professional practice.
- Providing an environment that inspires applied research capable of delivering innovative solutions to complex, real-world business and management problems.
- Exposing participants to the knowledge, skills, and attributes required for effective management and leadership beyond the workplace in their lifetime.

Our Curricula

Our curricula are designed to offer academic quality and professional relevance to the new generation of Nigerian and global business leaders. Our coursework is designed to help develop skills important to job success, such as idea development, analytical thinking, planning and effective communication. Membership of the Association of African Business Schools (AABS) and AMBA will grant us effective network opportunity in the African region and beyond.

University of Lagos Business School (ULBS) partners with national associations in manufacturing, healthcare industry, financial industry, retail, hospitality and energy to develop multiple educational options for the corporate members. Our programmes are designed to help the new generation of business leaders to build professional skills in Business and Management.

Our unique learning culture bridges the gap between theory and practice, preparing students to apply their new knowledge and skills in the workplace. Students will learn in a personal, small-class format, taught by seasoned professionals, who hold masters or doctorate degrees. Many of our faculty members are also distinguished practitioners in their industries, bringing their experiences directly to the classroom. Along with the sound business knowledge provided through the curricula, faculty members also focus on the development of interpersonal and business communication. Our focus on developing creative problem-solving skills, through case-based study and learning through realistic business scenarios support students' progress throughout the programme.

In addition, the ULBS will offer a unique learning laboratory where innovation and technology help today's new generation of business leaders to acquire the best theoretical and practical experiences, with their work on real-life problems in a learning format, combining case studies and simulations.

Our People

Mrs Olufunke Iyabo osibodu
Chairperson, Advisory Board (2024-2026)
University of Lagos Business School

Funke Osibodu has more than three decades of executive leadership experience inclusive of being the first female CEO of Nigeria Airports and International Airports, and subsequently being the first female CEO of a privatized electricity distribution company. She has served in many Board and Executive Leadership positions as Chairman, Director and CEO for multi-national organizations including African Finance Corporation (AFC), HFC Bank and Union Bank (UK).

She has also served as Board Director and Chairman of the Board of several national and international organizations doing business in multiple industries including insurance, banking, payment systems, pension funds, stock brokering, trusteeship, and real estate development.

Education & Career Highlights:

Funke Osibodu attended Holy Child College, Lagos, the University of Ife (now known as Obafemi Awolowo University) and the Advance Management Program of Harvard Business. She is also a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Bankers. After her national service, she commenced her banking career in Chase Merchant Bank and Citibank Nigeria and subsequently served as the first female CEO in three banks. These included MBC International Bank, and Ecobank Nigeria Plc, where she later served as a director of the holding company - (Ecobank Transnational). Subsequently, she was chosen by the Central Bank of Nigeria to lead Union Bank of Nigeria, as the Group CEO.

Key Accomplishments:

As a pioneer and first female to successfully run three banks and an electricity distribution utility company, she broke the glass ceiling for women and opened the acceptance of women for senior and executive management positions as well as board membership roles.

Our People

As a people's developer and Mentor, she trained, developed and mentored 3000+ young professionals in banking and utilities (electricity distribution) to develop leadership skills, financial and business acumen, and confidence to achieve personal and professional life ambitions.

In Innovations, she contributed significantly to the development of financial literacy and cashless economy products in Nigeria and was a key influencer and integrator of launching smart debit cards, interoperable Point of Sale devices (POS) and developing the Nigerian Interbank Settlement System (NIBSS).

In the field of National Leadership, she was appointed by the President of Nigeria as a member of the Vision 2010 (200 members) Committee to draft the first strategic economic vision for Nigeria. In addition, she is a Member of the Advisory Board (and previously Director and Vice-Chairman) of The Nigerian Economic Summit Group (NESG), a not-for-profit, non-partisan private sector organization, who work in strategic collaboration with the public sector with the mission to promote and champion positive sustainable transformation of the Nigerian economy and accelerate the creation of private sector friendly economy.

In 2011, the Financial Times recognized her as one of the world's most powerful businesswomen, ranking her at position 47, with she being the only African woman on the list.

Funke Osibodu's remarkable career trajectory and commitment to excellence have left an indelible mark on Nigeria's financial landscape, driving transparency and integrity into business practices and corporate governance whilst paving the way in the acceptability of women in financial sector leadership positions in the country.

Married and blessed with children and grandchildren, she places great importance on family and believes this is the foundation for true happiness.
